Dash gives your Mac instant offline access to 150+ API documentation sets.

Overview

Dash is an API Documentation Browser and Code Snippet Manager. Dash stores snippets of code and instantly searches offline documentation sets for 150+ APIs (for a full list, see below). You can even generate your own docsets (/docsets) or request docsets (/contact) to be included.

Supported Documentation Sets

Dash comes with 150+ offline documentation sets. You can choose which documentation sets to download and Dash will take care of the rest, making sure they are kept up to date. You can also generate your own docsets (/docsets), request docsets (/contact) or download docsets from third-party sources.

Listed below are all the various documentation sets Dash comes with. The most popular ones are highlighted. All documentation sets have been generated and are maintained with the utmost care.
